GENERAL

Did you know Benjamin Banneker was an African American Historian? Mr. Banneker constructed the first clock built in the United States, predicted a solar eclipse and helped with the designing of the city of Washington DC.

Banneker, an African-American mathematician and astronomer, had been engaged by Ellicott to help survey the federal territory. During that time Ellicott was working closely with L'Enfant an architect from France. When L'Enfant was fired Banneker and others had to complete the project from memory.

The library will be closed all day Monday, through Wednesday next week. Please make other plans for your computer and printing needs.

ACTIVITIES

WAY TO GO COUGARS! There were SO many "Shout-Outs" submitted this week for "O" = Opportunity. Here are just a few of the great things shared by students, teachers and staff members!

Mrs. Lewis stated that, Eve is innovative when she approaches group projects. When designing "a model school district" for class, Eve incorporated technology tools such as Pear Deck to engage her peers during her presentation. She also helps other students with technology in class.

CHS student Parker, gave a "Shout Out" to Andrew for taking every opportunity with every chance you get, looking out for others before yourself, you are truly respected in my book and someone I aspire to be.

Mrs. Caley, stated that Randy is always the first student in the class to have his materials out and ready to go. He is always doing further research into anything we study.

CHS student Samantha, gave a "Shout Out" to Wyatt. He signed up for Cart, he is an honor student in honor's classes. He is also trying to take a lot of AP classes. He also is in band and has co-curricular activities going on outside of school. He is a great example of someone who takes the opportunities he can to be successful! He's got potential! WAY TO GO Cougars, keep the submissions coming! Successful Cougars GROWL!

Come this Saturday night to the Music Lover's Dessert at 7:00 p.m. in the cafeteria. A wonderful evening of great entertainment provided by students in our Choral Department and delicious desserts. Tickets are $10 in advance or $12 at the door. See Mrs. Blumer in the choir room for tickets.
